Saint Joseph's High School

South Bend, Indiana

Presents

THE HI-WAY

Of 1954

DEDICATION

In a spirit of true devotion and humility, we, the students of St. Joseph's High School dedicate this yearbook to Mary Immaculate, Virgin Spouse of our own scholastic patron, in celebration of the centenary of the promulgation of the Dogma of her Immaculate Conception; and in acknowledgment of her as the Patroness of our nation, supplicating her to lead us, in the path of righteousness, to eternal happiness with her Divine Son.

The Most Rev. John Francis Noll, D.D.
Archbishop-Bishop of Fort Wayne

To the Archbishop . . .

To His Excellency, the Most Reverend John Francis Noll, recently elevated to the rank of Archbishop by His Holiness, Pope Pius XII, in recognition of his noble contributions to Catholic journalism; in acknowledgement of him as the architect of Catholic education, who has in his munificence, spanned the dark gulf of ignorance with an intellectual bridge to the bright land of God's truth, with his great efforts for education in this his diocese.

The Story of St. Joseph's High School

History . . .

On October 26, 1952, a step forward in the field of Catholic education was taken. Ground was broken for St. Joseph's High School. This was to be a novel merger of three of South Bend's Catholic high schools. A long awaited dream of supporters of parochial education was about to be realized.

Through continued sacrifice on the part of the people and stewardly management on the part of the clergy, the school was erected. It was blessed on September 20, 1953, by His Excellency, Archbishop John Francis Noll, and dedicated to the patronage of St. Joseph. In the same month the first students passed through its doors.

This is but a beginning. The history of our school is yet to be written. It is the hope of the students that this same history will be lengthy and glorious and that its principles of Catholic education will long endure.

SCHOOL PROGRESS

A NEW SCHOOL . . .

When it became apparent that Catholic secondary education must have greater facilities for the youth of the South Bend and Mishawaka area, a diocesan drive was begun in order to build a new Catholic high school. Under the direction of Rt. Rev. Msgr. John S. Sabo, Dean of the South Bend Deanery, the pastors of the various parishes, and a group of devoted laymen, the people of this vicinity were encouraged to contribute to this cause. So successful was this fund drive, that on October 26, 1952, His Excellency, Leo A. Pursley, Auxiliary Bishop of Fort Wayne, was able to turn the first clump of earth for the new school building, situated on the corner of Michigan Street and Angela Boulevard. Construction was begun immediately on this site, which was donated by the Brother of Holy Cross.

Until this time, there existed three Catholic high schools, Central Catholic, St. Joseph's Academy and South Bend Catholic, all of which operated under limited facilities for a number of years. Because of the increase in the Catholic population, a new consolidated high school was imperative. That the best possible materials and equipment were procured, the pictures on these pages will convincingly attest. The $1,900,000 school is of modern contemporary design and is located at the city limits on the main thoroughfare leading into South Bend, where it stands as a tribute to the devotion and self-sacrifice of the clergy and faithful of the South Bend Deanery.

No name was given the new school until September, 1953, when the first students entered its doors. Shortly afterwards, at a meeting of the priests of this deanery, a unanimous choice was reached of the thirty-five names submitted for consideration. The school would henceforth be known as Saint Joseph's High School, named in honor of the Spouse of the Blessed Virgin Mary and Patron of the Universal Church. It was also decided that military blue and white would be the official school colors, while the athletic teams would be known as the "Indians". The school song was adopted from the theme, "Go You, Northwestern". Hi-Lite was the name chosen for the school paper; The Hi-Way, the name given the yearbook.

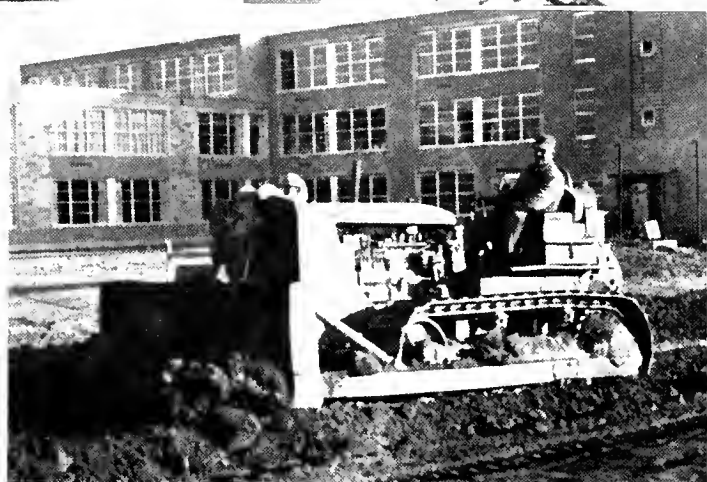

St. Joseph's is a co-curricular high school, built to house six-hundred boys and the same number of girls. The boys' department is under the direction of the Brothers of Holy Cross, while the girls' section is supervised by the Sisters of Holy Cross. Each department has its own director, but the entire organization of the school is administered to by a diocesan priest who acts as superintendent, financial coordinator and spiritual director. The boys' and girls' classes are conducted separately throughout the day, but they are encouraged to become acquainted in all social activities of the school.

As to the physical plan of the school, the building contains thirty-four classrooms, fourteen in the north wing, seventeen in the south wing and three in the middle section which is called the commons. In the basement of the commons is located the little theater with a seating capacity of three-hundred. The bookstore and a temporary cafeteria are also situated in the basement. The offices are located near the front entrance on the first floor. The library, the showplace of the school, is situated on the second floor near the small oratory. Art rooms and science laboratories occupy the third floor of the commons. Prior to actual experimenting, students attend classes in the adjoining lecture room.

The gymnasium, which is presently under construction, will house the athletic quarters, music rooms and a cafeteria, which will be able to serve the entire student body. The combination gymnasium-auditorium will seat a capacity crowd of three-thousand.

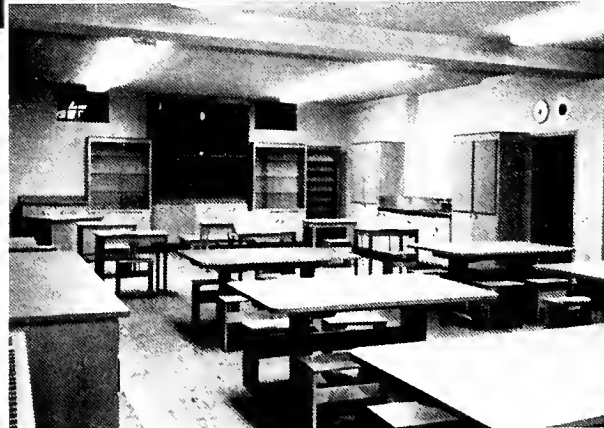

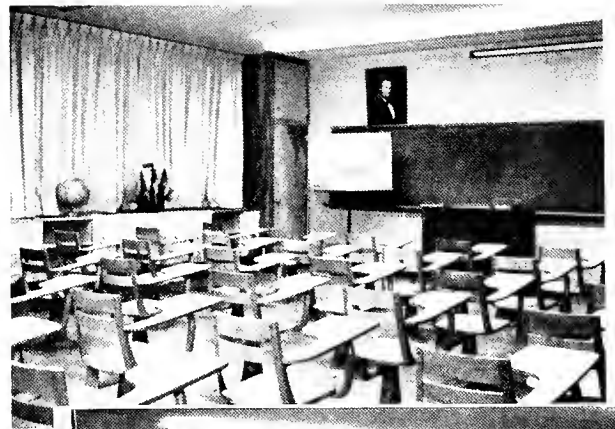

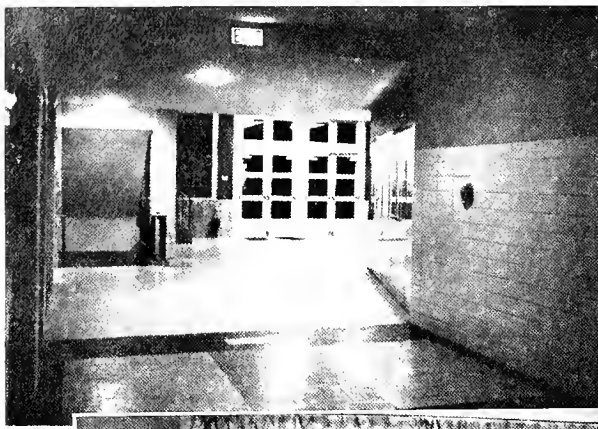

It is hoped that through the coming years this school, which represents the finest in secondary educational facilities, will adequately serve the needs of the youth of this area and will retain the purpose for which it was built--a step forward in Catholic education.

TO OUR FORMER HEAD COACH.

Mr. Francis H. (Frannie) Curran

Ever since his arrival two years ago, Francis H. Curran has admirably directed all forms of athletics at the Catholic High School of South Bend.

The foremost display of his coaching ability was evidenced when during this past year he led his football team to an undefeated season and the rightfully deserved title of best offensive team in the state.

During the latter part of this year, however, Mr. Curran was selected to coach the "B" football team at the University of Notre Dame. Although the school accepted his resignation with regret, nevertheless, everyone was conscious of the honor which had been bestowed upon him and indirectly on the school and so they wished him every success in his new position.

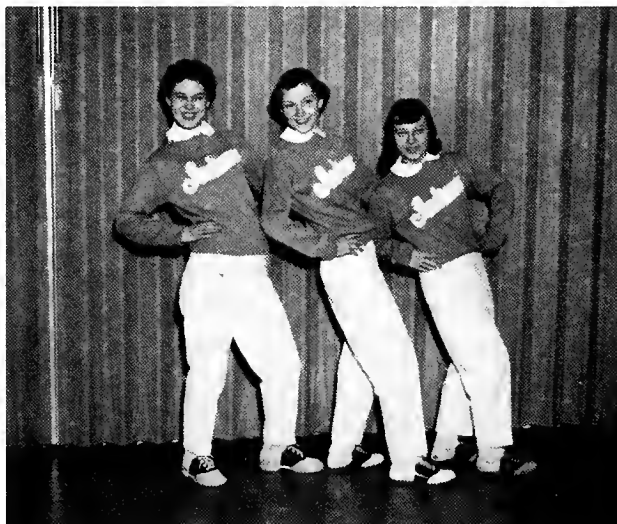

Frannie's name will always remain outstanding among the coaches of our school. For inaugurating the tradition of winning, for endearing himself to the students in both a coaching and teaching capacity, and, most of all, for being an outstanding example of a Christian gentleman, he will be remembered with respect and affection by all at St. Joseph's High School.

Newly-appointed Head Coach, George Kelly, discusses football strategy with players.

On February 25, 1954, the St. Joseph's Indians came of age! In their first appearance in the South Bend City Sectionals, the lightly regarded Saints polished off the Washington Panthers, City Champs, in a stunning victory which will probably go down as the greatest single victory in the school's history. Although behind during most of the game, the Indians pulled ahead of the Panthers in the last quarter and posted a 60-48 final score.

In the semi-finals game with the Mishawaka Maroons, however, the Indians suffered their second loss of the season by a score of 59-49. Battling right up to the final gun, the St. Joseph's quintet could not overcome a first period deficit thus ending their hopes of further tournament play. The St. Joseph's Indians, nevertheless, had proven that they were to be numbered among the city's basketball elite.

Spiritual Activities

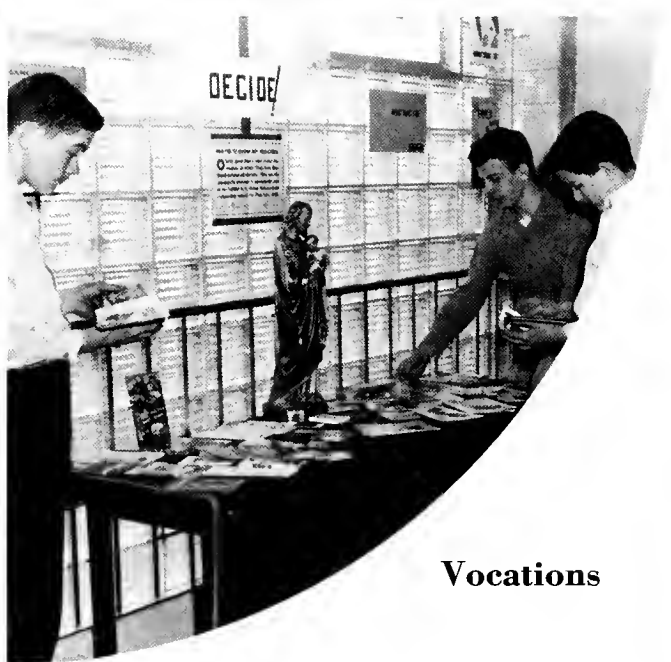

The students of St. Joseph's High School, during the past year, have participated in various spiritual exercises, enabling them to achieve a greater understanding of the place of religion in their daily lives.

Besides the daily instruction in the religion classes, such opportunities as First Friday confessions, school retreats, and the liturgical services of Ash Wednesday and the blessing of throats have been provided to help the students appreciate the spiritual values of their religion.

The Hi-Lite

The school paper, The Hi-Lite, carries over its name from the South Bend Catholic High School's newspaper, and is published monthly under the supervision of Sister Louis Irene, C.S.C. and Brother Lawrence Fitch, C.S.C.

Composed of four pages, printed in a highly glossy finish, the paper devotes a page to current news and one to various school activities and features, plus a sports and editorial page.

Because of organizational difficulties, the Hi-Lite was not printed as frequently as desired this year. Plans have been made, however, so that next year it will be published regularly each month.

The staff photographer for this year's Hi-Lite has been Ted Carlson, assisted by Brother Hugh Haggerty, C.S.C.

Connie Custer and Julie Engels approve a newly-printed copy of The Hi-Lite.

In December, 1953, Brother Harold Ruplinger, C.S.C., his staff of boys, and Sister Francis Loyola, C.S.C., with her group of girls, set up shop to begin preparations for the first publication of the school annual, The Hi-Way, a name selected by a vote of the student body. Both moderators and students have worked unselfishly to present an account of the progress and difficulties of our first year as a new school.

 ZIMMERMAN PRINTING COMPANY

These proceedings are closed . . ."

So said General MacArthur as he concluded the ceremonies ending World War II.

So we, the editors of the Hi-Way say, as the finishing touches are put on this, the final page.

For the past few months, the yearbook office has been turned into a madhouse as we hurried to meet deadlines, to gather photographs, and to turn out suitably planned pages in a minimum length of time.

Now the rush is over. The copy sheets are typed and signed, the job number stamp is discarded and the pictures are filed away. We turn objectively to our finished work and see that it is good.

Ours has been the responsibility of setting a precedent; of putting out a volume worthy of our successors.

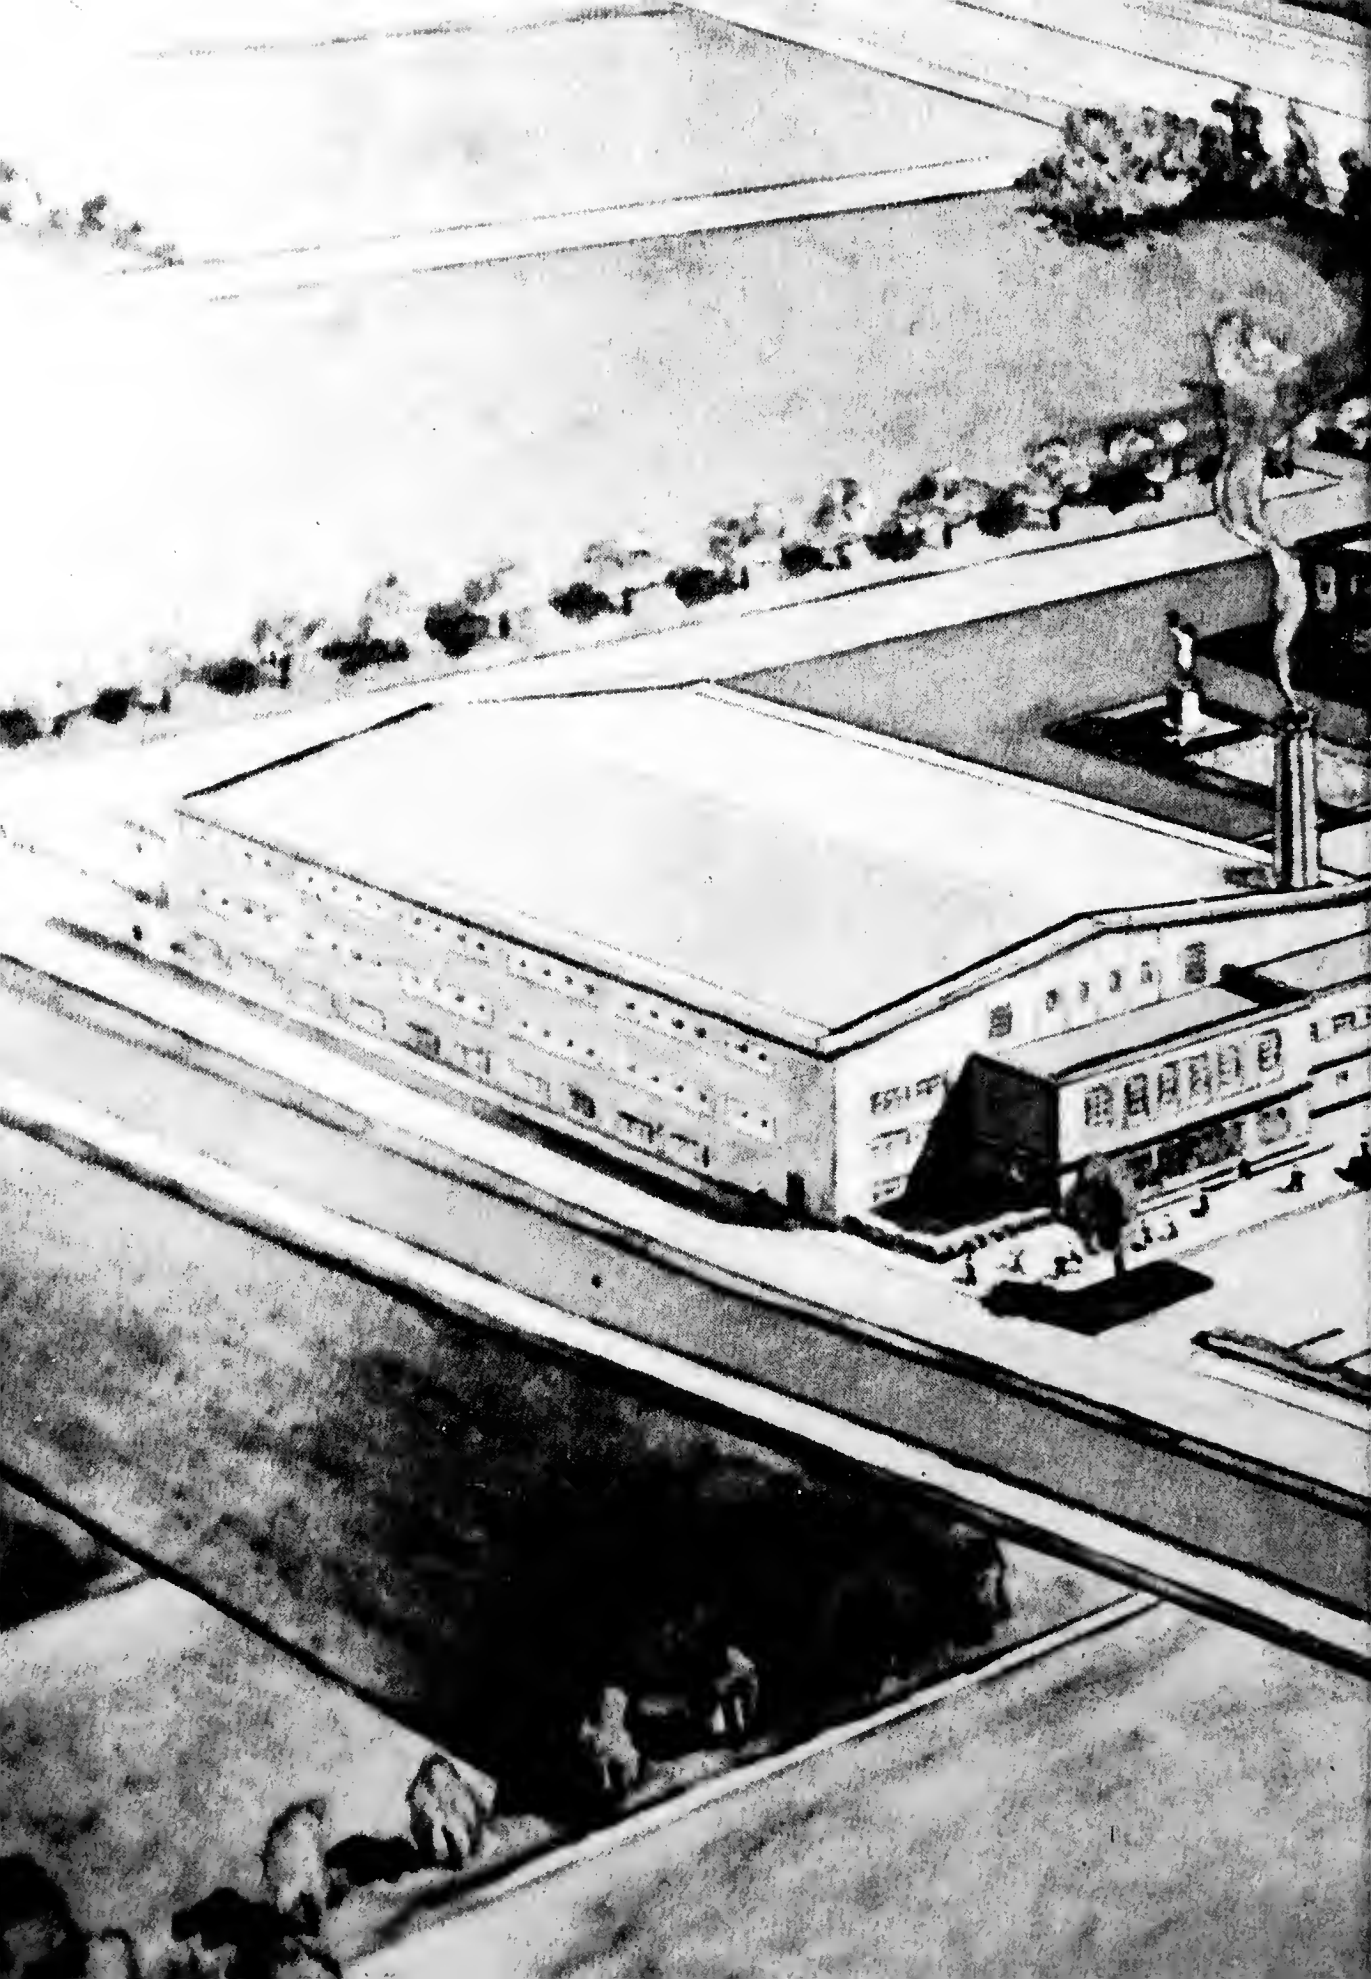

We believe we have done so.

We have attempted to tell the story of an institution still in its birth throes; to recreate the experiences of the first year of our new school.

It is the belief of the editors that these same experiences which now bring only a slight smile or a raising of an eyebrow from the participants, will be remembered with joy and ever cherished in later years.

If then during later life, the 1954 Hi-Way provides a clearer and happier memory of the high school days of some students, then our purpose, as Robert L. Stevenson has put it, ". . . to raise a voice in the silence of eternity", will have been accomplished.
